

We want to sincerely thank NBC5 for all their support in helping to make POWER: Opening Doors for Women® a success!

NBC5 has not only shared “talent” through the years, it has been a highly-valued sponsor of our POWER programs. Through our relationship with NBC5, we have been able to increase awareness of the value of POWER and to encourage other women to take advantage of this unique networking experience.

Serving as a Speaker for the Women in Media dinner this year, we know LeeAnn Trotter will add another level of experience and expertise that will help other women to learn how to succeed in the dynamic field of Media. Since it is the purpose of the POWER program to help develop the future women leaders in each industry, we appreciate when professionals, like LeeAnn, share their professional insights.

Deborah Brown, as a representative of NBC5’s sponsorship, has been instrumental in helping to make the POWER program a success. She has been involved in several of our networking events leading up to our Fifth Anniversary POWER: Opening Doors for Women Reception and Dinners on May 22nd. She also participated in our sponsor video last year. In addition, we were pleased to have Lauren Jiggetts as our moderator at last year’s program.

We value the continued support of Deborah, LeeAnn and NBC5!

Sincerely,

Deirdre Joy Smith

Deirdre Joy Smith, Executive Director
Women's Networking Community
POWER: Opening Doors for Women
134 North LaSalle Street
Suite 1125
Chicago, Illinois 60602
t- (312) 368-3840
f- (312) 368-9050